PROFILE SUMMARY

I'm a Computer Science and IT Management student at the University of Auckland, currently working as a Web Developer at Cosmoshop NZ as a side hussle.

Previously, I worked at PAK'nSAVE, where I developed strong teamwork, communication, and customer-service skills that continue to shape my collaborative approach to projects. I'm passionate about creating innovative solutions that connect people and technology.

SKILLS

Problem Solving - When I am faced with a challenge, I analyse the situation, come up with solutions, and take effective action.

Time Management - I prioritise my tasks efficiently, ensuring I meet deadlines while balancing multiple responsibilities, both professionally and personally.

Communication Skills - I can convey ideas and instructions clearly, making sure everybody understands the task at hand, both verbally and in writing.

Teamwork - I collaborate well with others by actively listening, contributing ideas, supporting others to achieve common goals, such as collaborating with others on projects.
